The digital edition of the yearbook ECA AGRI, edited by SIETE Agromarketing and e-Comercio Agrario, is already available to you. Here you will find the most relevant information of the agricultural and agricultural machinery sector: the analysis of the market of agricultural machinery in Spain, the latest developments in favor of greater sustainability and environmental respect or the reform of the CAP, are some of the the topics developed in this complete publication, through articles of opinion and full-time reports and interviews with some of the most prominent figures in the sector. There is also no lack of information related to the main companies and events. Do not miss it!

ECA AGRI is a publication that offers a detailed analysis of all the news of the agriculture and agricultural machinery sector, providing global political and economic information on this field, in the line of Agricultural Trade (ECA) that, today, is positioned as a pioneer among the online publications of the agri-food sector, with a clear national and international vocation.

In its eagerness to continue reporting on the political and economic news of the agro-food sector, with an impartial, different and critical view, ECA considers it essential to rescue all of its work over a year in journals that, in addition to the sector of agricultural machinery and agriculture, are also devoted entirely to the fruit and vegetables and olive groves.

ECA journals are born with the aim of becoming a reference in the agro-food sector and serve as a guide and showcase for the main companies to show their activity, lines of action, progress and innovations and the markets they are targeting. Directed towards technicians and professionals of the agri-food sector, these publications aim to become a useful tool for information and consultation, through careful design and the good trade of an expert team of professionals, composed of agricultural engineers, journalists, publicists and relevant collaborators of the medium. For more information about booking spaces in future editions, go to: publicidad@sieteagromarketing.com
