Spain: Fehr announces a new edition of the National Awards for Hospitality

The National Federation of Hotels, Fehr, has just opened the deadline for submission of applications to the National Hospitality Awards 2015. The registration to participate can be formalized until 30 September. The ceremony this year moved to Valencia, where he will meet the cream of the Spanish restoration.

The associations that are part of FEHR must submit nominations for the National Hospitality Awards before 30 September, in an email to premios@fehr.es. Also the companies can submit their documentation, provided that they belong to one of the groups of restaurateurs.

In addition to the awards, the jury granted awards to a number of different entities, personalities and institutions that stand out for their collaboration with the industry and for their actions to promote and invigorate the national hospitality.

Valencia will host the ninth edition of these awards, which after four years celebrated in Madrid began to rotate his seat in order to promote the involvement and participation of associations. Valladolid was the first to host the celebration of the FEHR Awards, which was followed by Bilbao, Sevilla, Oviedo and Zaragoza last year.

Source: Fehr