TOTAL lubricants in FIMA 2016

TOTAL Spain is present in the International Fair of Agricultural Machinery Zaragoza (FIMA) from 16 to 20 February presenting its range of lubricants TOTAL AGRI high technology for agriculture.

TOTAL strengthens its range of services to professionals in agriculture, thanks to a complete line of specific products for agricultural machinery. To respond specifically and efficiently to the demands of an activity that requires increasingly sophisticated machinery form TOTAL develops innovative products adapted to the latest technical evolutions.

It is a complete range designed to meet the technological requirements of agricultural machinery of last generation and also those of previous generations.

They are high-performance products that meet international specifications and approvals of the leading manufacturers of agricultural machinery and engines.

TOTAL lubricants is the only manufacturer that markets a full range of innovative products designed and formulated after years of research and collaboration with leading manufacturers and professionals in the agricultural sector.

Our lubricants saving fuel and bio-lubricants are cost-effective solutions tailored to the demands of a constantly evolving technology, enabling compliance with environmental regulations.

Further information

Source: TOTAL